THE 121st ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE OHIO DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE

This is the 1988 Annual Report for the Ohio Department of Insurance and is submitted in compliance with the Ohio Revised Code Section 3901.14.

This year the Department conducted a major investigation of the Chubb Insurance Group after it marketed drought insurance to Ohio farmers. The Department held hearings in nine county seats to collect testimony from farmers. The department also held hearings in Columbus to collect testimony from company and agency officials. The company had not properly planned for the demand for the insurance and attempted to provide a limited amount of coverage. The Department has charged Chubb with various violations of the Unfair and Deceptive Trade Practices Act and other laws, and a hearing has been scheduled.

In 1988, the Department conducted hearings in seven cities regarding auto insurance premiums. An Ohio Insurance Institute (OII) report indicated that rates around the state had gone up considerably over a five-year period. Department of Insurance records show that insurer filings made over that same period are actuarially sound and that the rates had not risen as much as the OII report had indicated. As a result of the hearings, which were widely attended in Cleveland, a task force was appointed to recommend ways to help consumers lower automobile insurance rates.

In March 1988, a federal jury returned a $101 million verdict against ChoiceCare, Cincinnati's largest HMO with over 100,000 subscribers. ChoiceCare's doctors had sued the HMO in August 1986, alleging violations of antitrust, RICO and securities laws. After extensive negotiations involving the Department, the parties to the suit entered into a settlement Agreement which allowed a portion of the verdict to be paid if ChoiceCare intended to grow, plus made certain management changes.

In 1988, the Department reviewed the Batus takeover of Farmers Insurance Group. Although insurance law does not include Part A of the Model Holding Company Act, the Department exerted jurisdiction through a retaliatory statute. After lengthy hearings, the transaction was conditionally approved by the Department and the parties are now working together to successfully complete the transaction. This transaction spotlighted Ohio's need for adoption of Part A.

Ohio is also in need of legislation to create a Life/Health Guaranty Fund. The 1987 collapse of Kansas-based Farm and Ranch Insurance Company left 14,000 Ohioans without coverage. The Department was able to put together a rescue plan for the policyholders, but such an effort may not always be possible. To date, at least three additional foreign life and health insurance companies with substantial business in Ohio are facing financial difficulties.

In early 1988, the Department issued a bulletin to prohibit the misrepresentations of Medicare Supplement policies that are advertised with the use of television "celebrity hucksters". A similar bulletin regarding life insurance was also issued in late 1988. The Department's actions helped prevent Ohio's elderly from being duped into buying unnecessary coverage.

Ohio is the nation's 7th largest insurance state in terms of premium volume. The following table shows the number and classifications of companies filing annual statements for the year 1987:
